

How to successfully launch a RFP process for choosing the right Treasury IT tools?

Before launching such a heavy and long process, why not getting first a picture of the TMS market to assess the strategy to be applied, the IT vendors to include in the offer and useful tips to design your ROI? Simply Treasury can help you and give you means to successfully “sell” your project internally.

Successful RFP for IT solutions

Simply Treasury can help you in assessing the objectives of your digitization project, to give you a better and comprehensive view of the market and key players to include in your RFP and, eventually build with you a solid case study including a ROI.

It is never easy to build a case to get your project pre-validated. We can give you all the elements to convince the CFO or your treasury committee of your IT project.

If you are interested, please do not hesitate to contact us for a free preliminary discussion on how to be address such a project.
